

WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Elwood, Ind.—"Your remedies have cured me and I have only taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was sick three months and could not walk. I suffered all the time. The doctors said I could not get well without an operation, for I could hardly stand the pains in my sides, especially my right one, and down my right leg. I began to feel better when I had taken only one bottle of Compound, but kept on as I was afraid to stop too soon."—Mrs. S. M. MULLEN, 2728 N. B. St., Elwood, Ind.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

The British Crown.

The present crown of Great Britain was constructed in 1803, with jewels taken from old crowns and others furnished by command of the queen. It contains four large pear-shaped pearls, 273 small pearls, 147 table diamonds, 1,273 rose diamonds, 1,303 brilliant diamonds, five rubies, 11 emeralds and 17 sapphires.

Holds the Record.

The Beaumont (Tex.) Enterprise tells of a typist who can take 100 words per minute. We know of a man in Allentown with a hatchet-faced wife who can, and does, take at the rate of about 300 words per minute when she gets wound up.—Allentown Democrat.

Advice Welcomed.

"You won't mind I write you a letter now and then and tell you how to run your paper?" "No," answered the editor of the Oatville Clarion; "not if you'll be sure and subscribe, so that you can see whether I am following instructions."

Moral Zealot Nuisance.

The worst man you can have in the community is the zealot, who would regulate your morals and religion by his narrow standard of right and wrong. Orthodoxy is well enough till it goes on the warpath.—Washington Post.

Nothing New About That.

TUBERCULOSIS TREATMENT vs. TUBERCULOSIS CURE

There is a vast difference between a treatment and a CURE. Sanatorium, Dietetic and Climate Treatment are beneficial in a way. They "bolster up." But oftentimes they give the impression that the disease is cured, while the disease is really being smothered, and soon gains headway again, developing more rapidly. Nature herself tries to heal, but the disease germs develop faster than Nature can work, and the result is eventually the total destruction of the lungs.

Consumptives first think of sanatoriums when seeking a cure. In the public mind also that seems to be the one method. Yet how many people do you know who have been permanently cured by Sanatorium treatment? Statistics seemingly fail to enlighten on this point. Medicine as a cure for Tuberculosis is frequently derided by physicians and consumptives themselves, but when the makers of Eckman's Alternative can produce irrefutable testimonials and affidavits made by those who have been cured, few reasonable-minded consumptives will refuse to listen to the new call of health and happiness that is made by Eckman's Alternative.

These cured people were skeptical. Everyone is. But if your present treatment is not curing you, is it effective? No! The disease must be eradicated entirely.

Find out what Eckman's Alternative may do for you. We refer you to electrolysis, priests, nuns—God's ministers to the sick—whose word could not be bought for any money.

Eckman's Alternative has cured many cases of tuberculosis that Sanatoriums had pronounced absolutely incurable. Could more be said?

Eckman's Alternative is good for all Throat and Lung troubles, and is on sale in Norwich by Lee & Cogswell Co., and other Druggists. It can also be obtained at, or procured by, your local Druggists. Ask for Booklet of Cured Cases, or write for Evidence to the Eckman Laboratory, Phila., Pa.

PASSENGERS ALL CALLED ON DECK

Lifeboats Made Ready for Launching—Steamship Grecian Returns to Philadelphia with Serious Fire in the Hold—Everybody Safely Landed.

Philadelphia, June 30.—The Merchants and Miners' steamship Grecian, which left this port yesterday for Boston, with more than 100 persons on board, returned here today with a serious fire in the forehold. Eighty of those on board were passengers, nearly all Philadelphians, and they were landed safely.

The fire was discovered in the miscellaneous cargo while the ship was proceeding down the Delaware bay last night. Captain Briggs called the crew to fire quarters and began pumping water into the hold.

Captain Decided to Return. The captain did not believe the fire would be serious and kept his course, after the Grecian had passed out to sea, and when she was abreast of Cape May the fire appeared to gain headway and becoming apprehensive the captain decided to return. This was after midnight and all the passengers were asleep. He ordered the chief steward to call everybody on deck.

Calm Address to the Passengers. While the passengers were being awakened the lifeboats of the Grecian were being made ready for launch at a moment's notice. When the fact that a fire was burning in the hold became known the passengers were invited to meet Captain Briggs in the main saloon. The captain made a speech. He said that he felt that there was absolutely no danger, but because there was a serious fire in the hold he considered it best to awaken them and have them prepared to leave the ship.

Pensions for Two Indians. Senator Dixon of Montana is an eloquent advocate. He demonstrated this when he obtained a pension for two Indian warriors in the face of an adverse report from the pensions committee.

The Indians are Crows and were a part of the band from that tribe which came to rescue of and saved Gen. Crook in the Rosebud fight with the Sioux 24 years ago.

Old Coyote and Bull Snake, the two Crows, were wounded in the Rosebud battle. When their petitions for pensions came up in the senate and were in danger of defeat, Senator Dixon came to their assistance with this appeal:

"When Gen. Crook was hemmed in by the Sioux on the Rosebud reservation he sent couriers to the Crows for help. They sent 120 of their young men, and these two Indians, Old Bull Snake's leg was shattered in the fight by a musket ball. Old Coyote's shoulder blade shattered."

"For 34 years these old men have dragged over the country, without pension, without reward of any kind from the government. Both of them are very old men at this time, and I do think $20 a month under these circumstances is certainly a pitiful allowance for this great government to render to the two old men who were shot in battle."

Enough was said. The bill passed the senate in spite of the committee report.—Washington Times.

Women and Mountaineering.

One of the chief difficulties in a woman's undertaking an expedition in mountain climbing is that, whatever her experience, every man believes that he knows better what should be done than she.—Harper's Magazine.

Not on Democratic Principles.

Perhaps it may be laid down as a general rule that a legislative assembly, not constituted on democratic principles, cannot be popular long after it ceases to be weak.—Macaulay.

Women Animals Slaughterers.

Animal slaughtering is, on the face of it, a highly unsuitable kind of work for women, but it is a curious fact that there are three women employed in that occupation in England.

Good Thing to Avoid.

"When you comes to figure in de loss of time, temper an' mebbe friendship," said Uncle Eben, "it's mighty hard foh anybody to say foh certain dat he has had de best of an argument."

Ability.

No man is the wiser for his learning. It may administer matter to work in, or objects to work upon; but wit and wisdom are born with a man.—John Selden.

The Inquisitive Child.

"Bobby—Please, pa, just one more." Pa—"All right. Well, what is it?" Bobby—"Say, pa, who is going to bury the last man that dies?"—Illustrated Bits.

Optimism.

"Some fish ate the bait right off my hook," she said. "Cheer up. He'll be all the bigger when you do catch him," he responded, encouragingly.

Embarrassing.

Mike (as some one knocks)—Sure! If Ol' don't answer, it's some wan 't' give me a job, an' if Ol' do, it's the lan'lord after the rent.—Life.

The Only Way.

The only way some busy men ever take a day off seems to be by tearing it off the calendar.—Minneapolis Journal.

Easy Marks Popular.

A professional gambler enjoys meeting an amateur who knows all about the game.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Peace and Stability.

Rule for Life.

Be just in business and generous out of it.—Lorrmore.

Life's Real Lesson.

He is the best scholar who has learned to live well.—Dumas.

Some three years ago a rabid dog ran across the international bridge at Buffalo into Ontario. Many cases of rabies have since occurred in that province, some 50 persons bitten by dogs having had to go to New York for treatment at the Pasteur Institute.

If such a step became necessary. When the captain addressed the passengers the steamship had been turned toward Philadelphia and was ten miles out to sea.

Dancing in the Cabin Saloon.

The captain suggested that they should amuse themselves. Somebody started playing the piano and dancing was started. The fire was then burning fiercely in the hold and the ship was running under full speed toward Philadelphia.

Fire Engines Summoned at Dock.

On the run up the bay during the night the Grecian fell in with the Indian of the same line which stood by until Philadelphia was reached. Signals were displayed and Philadelphia fireboats were at the pier when the Grecian arrived, but the flames were burning so fiercely that fire engines had to be summoned.

No Lives Lost.

The passengers were calm and left the burning ship without any confusion when it was tied up. The flames in the hold, which are believed to have been started by spontaneous combustion, were drowned out in the course of the day. Twelve firemen were overcome by smoke, but they were revived after being brought ashore.

Mrs. Mary Brooking of this city, a passenger, speaking of her experience, said: "It was wonderful the way the officers of the ship handled the affair. Not one of the officers or crew was excited and they were all smiling when the passengers came on deck."

For a Peace Commission.

We are glad to see that Mr. Benet's joint resolution for the appointment of a commission in relation to universal peace, was passed by both houses of congress. It now goes to the president for his action, and it is not unduly optimistic to hope that it will have some practical influence on the negotiation of peace among the powers of the world.

The resolution does not bind the government or the nation to anything and does not contemplate the incurring of any expense, though expenses for the purpose in view would not be grudged. It simply authorizes the president to appoint five men, who shall consider the expediency of utilizing existing international agencies for securing limitations of armaments by international agreement and of using the navies of the world as a peace-keeping police, and who shall also consider any other ways and means of diminishing military expenditures and of lessening the danger of war. We are sure that all right-minded persons must regard such endeavors with sympathetic approval.—N. Y. Tribune.

The Gentleman.

There are men and women who pride themselves upon their gruffness, and though they may possess virtue, their manners make them intolerable. The finest gentleman that ever breathed was the model man of Nazareth. And if Christianity has no higher recommendation, here's statement in "Guesses of Truth," "the Christian is God Almighty's gentleman," that alone makes it an invaluable element in society.

How Women May Keep Well.

An authority upon all matters connected with physical training says that a woman who wishes to keep well and in good condition should sleep nine hours of the 24, take cold water baths, exercise for five minutes each day with light dumbbells, drink a cup of hot liquid before breakfast, spend half an hour every day in outdoor exercise, make the best of bad bargains and, above all, always keep her temper.

A Conservative.

"Your great trouble," said the sagacious person, "is that you don't apply scientific principles to agriculture." "Praps," answered Farmer Cornstossel. "What, in your opinion, cause so many crop failures?" "I dunno for sure. But I've a suspicion it's tryin' to follow the advice of everybody that comes along an' says he knows all about it."

Turpentine.

Turpentine, in India, is derived from the chir, or long-leaf pine, which very much resembles the American long-leaf pine, from which the main supply of turpentine of the world is derived and which is rapidly disappearing. This tree occurs in different parts of the Himalayas, at elevations of from 3,500 feet to 7,000 feet.

Following Our Women.

Aristotle says: "The aim of labor is rest." He never knew New York, for they rest like the chicken hawk—upon the wing. The man who keeps up with the New York woman ought to have as many legs as a centipede and the temper of an angel.—New York Press.

Strength of Beetles.

Beetles possess an enormous amount of strength. The common beetle can draw 500 times its own weight, and a stag beetle has been known to escape from underneath a box on which a weight had been placed 1,700 times greater than the insect's body.

Getting Rich.

"How did you get the money to buy paints to finish your big picture?" asked the sympathetic intimate of the struggling artist. "Pawnd my coat." "Oh! And how much did you get for your picture?" "Nearly enough to get my coat out."

Pagan Philosophy.

"If you wish for anything which belongs to another, you lose that which is your own," said Epictetus. He was a slave, but, more clearly than any of the stoics, realized the essential importance of every human being.

Useful.

"Life is largely made up of illusions," said the complacent cynic. "Yes," answered Miss Cayenne, "and they serve a beneficent purpose. If there were no illusions, there would be far less self-esteem."

The Republican State Convention of Vermont endorsed Taft and the work of congress.
